

(A) the label in the very font and size of the text: the level carries no w:rPr, so the label is Carlito 11pt like the item

1. Item 1 of case A. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.
2. Item 2 of case A. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.

A plain Carlito 11pt paragraph, no list. A typesetting engine must decide where each line ends and where each page ends; small differences accumulate.

(B) the level's w:rPr names Liberation Serif, the same size: a different ascent, the same 11pt

1. Item 1 of case B. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.
2. Item 2 of case B. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.

A plain Carlito 11pt paragraph, no list. A typesetting engine must decide where each line ends and where each page ends; small differences accumulate.

(C) the level's own w:rPr w:sz="32": a 16pt label on 11pt text

1. Item 1 of case C. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.
2. Item 2 of case C. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.

A plain Carlito 11pt paragraph, no list. A typesetting engine must decide where each line ends and where each page ends; small differences accumulate.

(D) the level's own w:rPr w:sz="16": an 8pt label on 11pt text

1. Item 1 of case D. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.
2. Item 2 of case D. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.

A plain Carlito 11pt paragraph, no list. A typesetting engine must decide where each line ends and where each page ends; small differences accumulate.

(E) a Symbol bullet, the corpus's own shape: w:numFmt="bullet" and the level's w:rFonts naming Symbol

- Item 1 of case E. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.
- Item 2 of case E. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.

A plain Carlito 11pt paragraph, no list. A typesetting engine must decide where each line ends and where each page ends; small differences accumulate.

(F) the same bullet in DejaVu Sans, which both machines have, so the label's box can be compared with Symbol's

- Item 1 of case F. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.
- Item 2 of case F. The administration acknowledged that implementation of the recommendations required extraordinary international collaboration.

A plain Carlito 11pt paragraph, no list. A typesetting engine must decide where each line ends and where each page ends; small differences accumulate.